From the Desk of Fr. Francis

Greetings of Christ's Peace and Joy! Hope you all had a blessed week.

Thanks

Thanks to Bruno Caruso, president of St. Rocco Society, for generously donating all Christmas Poinsettias to our parish again. He personally purchased and delivered them to both of our Worship Sites. His support to our parish is greatly appreciated. What an example of faith, love and hope!

Thanks to all who helped with our St. Barbara Feast celebration. The contributions from our ministers, catechists and students made our Church's feast day so prayerful and thought-provoking. We thank God for St. Barbara and we definitely continue to rely on her intercessions for our community. We are also very grateful for the countless men and women of faith who have supported St. Barbara and who continue to do so. You are a blessing to our parish and I hope St. Barbara and St. Therese of St. Mother Teresa Parish continues to faithfully follow the call of our Lord and provide the best services possible to all of our parishioners and friends.

The Act of Perfect Contrition

One of the ways for us to prepare ourselves during this season of Advent is going to Confession, celebrating the Sacrament of Reconciliation. Due to COVID-19 guidelines, our parish's special scheduled Reconciliation Services for our students both from our school and Religious Education Program and for our parishioners at large have been cancelled. We are still able to continue with our regular Saturday Confession from 4:15pm to 4:45pm at St. Barbara Church.

So the question is if I have to stay at home or if I can't find a suitable time or place for Confession during this pandemic, is there any other way that I can have my sins absolved?

The answer is yes. You can make an act of perfect contrition. The Catechism of the Catholic Church teaches, "When it arises from a love by which God is loved above all else, contrition is called 'perfect' (contrition of charity). Such contrition remits venial sins; it also obtains forgiveness of mortal sins if it includes the firm possible" (CCC §1452).

There are three indispensable motives in the act of perfect contrition: 1). Sinners choose to be contrite based on one's love of God; 2). Sinners have to have a firm desire of not sinning again in the future; 3), Sinners have to have the intention to go to Confession in person when it's possible.

Comparing to imperfect contrition, the motive for an imperfect contrition is fear of the eternal punishment. The Catechism of the Catholic Church states, “The contrition called “imperfect” (or “attrition”) is also a gift of God, a prompting of the Holy Spirit. It is born of the consideration of sin’s ugliness or the fear of eternal damnation and the other penalties threatening the sinner (contrition of fear). Such a stirring of conscience can initiate an interior process which, under the prompting of grace, will be brought to completion by sacramental absolution. By itself however, imperfect contrition cannot obtain the forgiveness of grave sins, but it disposes one to obtain forgiveness in the sacrament of Penance” (CCC 1453).

Another important element to have our sins forgiven is an examination of conscience. Relying on the guidance of the Holy Spirit, penitents need to take some time to examine one’s life and one’s relationships with God, others and oneself, before Confession or making the act of perfect contrition.

I hope each of you can take some time during this Advent to receive God’s gift of forgiveness by either celebrating the Sacrament of Reconciliation or by making an Act of Perfect Contrition.

Peace ~ Fr. Francis

WHEN NOTHING SEEMS CLEAR

By Fr. John Cuff

John the Baptist had given everything to God. He had left his home and his family. He lived in total poverty. And even if you eat them with honey, locusts are still bugs.

John the Baptist had preached the Kingdom of God; he had given everything to prepare the way for Jesus. And what’s his apparent reward? He’s in prison. It seems that God is hidden from him. He hears about the miracles that Jesus is doing, and yet he remains in prison.

He sends his friends to ask the most important question; everything hinges on this question. He asks Jesus: “Who are you?” “Are you the meaning of my life? Are you the mercy of God made visible? I have given everything – even my freedom – for God. Are you his face among us?”

And the answer that Jesus gives to John’s question can seem a bit cryptic. He doesn’t say, “Obviously... Of course I’m the one who is to come. All your difficulties and sufferings are over!”

Jesus is telling John, “You don’t have to understand everything. You’re not God. All I ask is that you listen and look at what I’ve done and continue to do in your life and in the lives of others.”

We all have our John the Baptist moments, when nothing seems clear, when Christmas may seem far away. And in those moments, Jesus is telling us, “Look, and listen.”

CALLING ALL ALUMNI!

Please contact Nicole Yong at nyong@sttheresechicago.org for more information.

As part of our Religious Education program, St. Therese School's 7th and 8th grade students and Parish PREP students continue working on their Saint Project. Their research and reflection was conducted in preparation for both All Saints Day and their Confirmation next spring.

St. Mary the Mother of God (c.18 BC - c. 30 - 33 AD)

- She is the patron saint of mothers, humanity, purity, and virgins.
- St. Mary was only around 12 to 15 years old when she became pregnant with Jesus. While Mary was pregnant, she had to leave Nazareth with Joseph, and make a long trip to Bethlehem.
- Even after Jesus' death, she went on to spread the word of God.
- Important Dates Honoring St. Mary the Mother of God:
 - Annunciation of the Lord: March 25
 - Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary: August 15
 - Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin Mary: December 8

Student Reflection #1: I believe that Saint Mary will help me pursue holiness because she is a mother. With that being said, mothers care for their children very much, and they love them. Saint Mary is our mother and she will always be there for us, her children. Just like a mother, Mary will help us stay with God, and she will protect us from the devil. Whenever I am scared, I pray to Mary because I know she will always protect me, and she won't let anything bad happen to me.

Rejoice, God is Faithful by Sr. Caritas

Many days in winter, teaching in Kindergarten and/or First grade, I watched children struggle with putting on boots or putting on winter coats. When you have twenty or more little ones, all trying to put on boots, it takes a while, so you had to start early before dismissal. Eventually I would go and help after I finished the other child. I would go down the line of children until everyone was ready to go home. Sometimes I too would have to struggle with the child's boots in helping them.

We are given directives today in St Paul's letter about getting ready for the coming of the Lord. We are told to rejoice. The realization that the coming of the Lord is getting closer and closer should enable us to rejoice. St. Paul also tells us how to prepare. "Give thanks in all circumstances." That can be hard since some things that happen make it hard to thank God. Keep the Spirit alive in you. Listen to real prophesy and follow those speaking for God. Be a person of discernment in all situations. Do not choose evil. All these are clear directives which would help us prepare and draw closer to God. These are things we can struggle with just as the young children struggle with boots. Put on this way of life which makes us prepared.

By ourselves we may or may not be able to do these things. The one who can accomplish all these things in us is God. God's spirit can fill us and enable us to put on the called for qualities. God has the power to transform us. We need to do our part. We need to be open and accept the graces. Transformative grace comes to us from God.

Rejoice because as St. Paul says, "The one who calls you is faithful and will accomplish it." The faithful God will help us and do in us what we cannot do by ourselves. We are to prepare and open ourselves to God's action in us. Then we can truly REJOICE!
